St Anne's Church, Baslow

A Time to Remember

'Time to Remember' is a special service at St Anne's. In it we set aside some time to remember those who have died over the past years and give you the chance to reflect on them again.

The service will include readings and poetry, music and silence, the reading out of names and the lighting of candles and then a time of prayer.

The service is followed by refreshments. If it feels better for you, you are welcome to slip away quietly with your own thoughts.

You - and any of your family or friends are welcome at our memorial services and if you wish a name to be added to our list (any name of a deceased person you wish to remember, however long ago they died - some memories remain fresh for a long time...) then please contact us in advance.
